Do not preempt state laws regarding weakening state laws reflects on No Call reflects a disregard for the consumer's

Hello:

RE: CG Docket No. 02-278

My husband and I have just become aware that the No Call List in Wisconsin is being threatened.

We want to keep our phones quiet. Our home is a place that we should be able to get away from the hustle and bustle of the rest of the world. It should not be invaded by unwanted phone calls. We work hard all day and want to relax in the quite of our home. These type calls are unwanted by the receivers.

We don't want to have to jump up from the dinner table, watching a good movie, or our favorite TV show to see who is calling. You cannot NOT answer the phone. It may be the kids calling or an elderly aunt or parent that needs help, or has been in an accident, etc.

My husband works nights and sleeps during the day. He cannot shut off the phone. If I need to get a hold of him or need help, I have to call. He does not need to be disturbed except for an emergency, or a work related call. There is no one else close for me to call.

It is hard for our elderly aunts and parent to get to the phone. Again, they cannot NOT answer the phone either. That is not fair.

If the door is open to the banks, then it will be open to every solicitor. If I wanted light bulbs, windows, siding or tickets to a show, I would go and buy them. I don't need someone calling me and bugging me.

If we quit doing business with a bank or credit card company, there is usually a very good reason. If we wanted their services, or they treated us descent, we would still be doing business with them. If they made us angry enough to drop their business, we do NOT want to hear from them. They could say that they sent us a post card or letter offering us a credit card as a contact and then call and call.

We all pay good tax dollars, both federal and state, in return, please help protect us from these unwanted, unneeded phone calls.

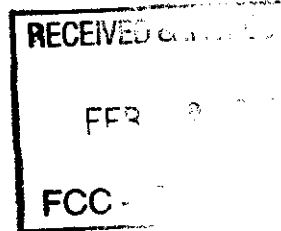

Please, PLEASE, do not let this happen, we beg of you. Keep the No Call List in place.

Sincerely,

Dear Sirs -

I'm writing to you to urge you to keep the W.I.consin No call list in force and not replace it with the less effective Federal No-call list legislation. I do not want to receive telemarketing calls at my home. It would be nice if you would also support legislation to prevent telemarketers targeting my cell phone number as well.

One other suggestion I think would be helpful is that you should remain on the No-call list indefinitely without having to renew or sign up again - I would like to be permanently listed on the No-call list unless I contact and remove my name & number from the list.

Thank you for considering my wishes -

I am strongly against any federal legislation or federal governmental action that would weaken Wisconsin's No Call Law. I want control over my own telephone and the privacy in my own home. This year, since I forgot to re-apply for the no-call list, I have been plagued by solicitations. I repeatedly tell callers that I do not do business over the phone. Sometimes callers argue with me. If I hang up, they may call back. One night, the call I received was apparently from a scammer who had the last four digits of my social security number. He persisted in asking me questions. I hung up. And he called back. I wished I had had caller ID for that one.

Getting an unlisted number is not an option I should have to consider. Blocking totally unwelcome calls and wanton consumerism is something that should be within my rights. Please, please, please, do not approve any new rules or legislation that interferes with the will of the people of Wisconsin to create and enforce our "No Call Law."

By the way, I would have submitted these comments online, but the site is inoperative. Is that another way to limit comment? I hope not.

Re: Wisconsin Do Not Call List

Gentlemen:

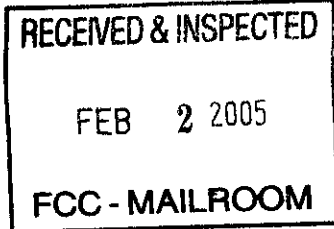

This letter is being written to request the Wisconsin Do Not Call List continue as it has been. It appears it works in keeping the telemarketers from calling.

Sincerely,

Re: Wisconsin Do Not Call List

Gentlemen:

I have been very happy with the Wisconsin Do Not Call List and wish to express my desire that it continue.
The telemarketing calls are almost non-existent and that makes life more pleasant.

Sincerely,

John J. Kaufmann
